For Congress, HON. WM. S. ASHE.

The Fourth of July.

Monday next being the Anniversary of the Dec laration of American Independence, of course no paper will be issued from this Office, as Editors, Printers, and Devils all alike desire to show their Independence for one day at least in the year, during which they have souls above copy, types, or proofs, cast care to the dogs, who are much annoyed by fleas, and feel as good as the best.

Of the celebration here, we need say nothing beyoud what is announced in the programme. Neither do we feel like becoming eleoquent or patriotic upon the original and unexhausted topic of the fourth of July. The orators of the day here and elsewhere, will do the subject full justice, much fuller than we could if we tried. We need only remark that, perhaps, upon the whole, the sun which will rise upon Monday next, will view as high a picture of genuine, solid progress and prosperity as any presented by the past history of this or any other country. Indeed, we question if Independence day has ever been ushered in under more favorable auspices. Prudence and an adherence to first principles will blessings with which we are now crowned

For some reason, perhaps the exposure to the sun, a number of people are apt to feel far less comfortable on the 5th than on the 3d or 4th. We would suggest that the heat and injurious effects of the sun are much increased when seen through the medium of a glass-especially if there be brandy in it. It may be, that thereby the Caloric is brought to focus. At any rate, we would advise abstinence from the first, but certainly after the fifth-toddy.

The exact degree of temperature at which the human frame becomes reduced to a perfectly fluid state, we have never yet been able to ascertain -We have heard of middle-aged, fat gentlemen disappearing from under their hats and leaving but a look upon as apochryphal, as will be evident to any body who happens to owe a small bill to a fat man. bit of it.

Letter from Hon. Asa Biggs.

We find in the last Democratic Pioneer, published at Elizabeth City, an able letter from this tried and true Democrat and eminently reliable gentleman, in reference to a recent address, purporting to be signed by certain Democrats of Pasquotank county, bringing him out as candidate for Congress in the First District in opposition to Dr. Shaw, the regular nominee. As might have been expected from Col. Biggs, he refuses to be a party to any such movement, and bears down pretty hard upon some of the reasons for disorganization, given by the signers of the "address" in question. It seems they have a "clique" over there, and make as much fuss about it as we do here. Speaking of office and office-seeking Mr. Biggs says:

Considered in the general it comes in quite a ques ionable shape for a " Democratic Address," but let us see the particulars. I gather from the " Address" that the dissatisfaction to Dr. Shaw is, that there is 'reason to believe there is a "clique" in this vicinity and that he is connected with it and has exerted his influence to secure the appointments of those o whom the body of his party is bitterly and irreconcileably opposed;" and this the address says " warrants a repudiation of the candidate." They say they differ with Col. Outlaw politically, and therefore cannot support him From the editorial (which I suppose was intended to keep company with the address) I learn that you have been appointed Collector at Eliza beth City and other persons are expected to be appointed to other offices, and this is the cause and the only cause of the independent movement. Let the out-door laborer have a respite of an additional hour or two, or even three hours in the hottest part of the day; and if it can be allowed on no other terms, it were better to make up the deficiency in the evening or in the morning, for we presume that labor is pretty generally regulated in this city by the ten hour system .-By going to work an hour or two earlier, and by olding on in the afternoon an hour or two later, two or three hours, judiciously, to laborers and employers, might be deducted from the heat of the day. At all events this rule might be applied to a considerable saving of life during these occasional paroxysms of dreadful heat, which seldom lasts longer than two or three days without creating the relieving elements of a thunder storm.
